Have Caused Havoc
Over Wide
Area

AMERICAN IS KILLED

Flames Have Reduced
Several Towns to Ashes

Thought Little Loss of Life
Occurred—Communication
Cut Off.

City of Mexico, March 28.—Deaths in the earthquake Thursday night in the republic are expected to reach 500. Two cities and three villages were completely destroyed and many villages were damaged. The cities are Chilpancingo and Chilapa, and the villages are Concepcion, Tetitilla and Coatepec. Government troops and provisions are being rushed to the scenes today. The greater part of Chilapa is burned, and panic-stricken people made no effort to extinguish the flames or care for the dead, who are thought to number 300. Many of the dead are incinerated and the exact number will never be known.

In Chilpancingo not a building is left standing. Because of the interruption of the telegraph, little information has reached here from many towns believed to have been razed.

City of Mexico, Mexico, March 28.—A runner from Chilapa reached Zumpango and reported that Chilapa was completely destroyed; that a few minutes after 9 o'clock Thursday night every building toppled or collapsed and fire completed the destruction. Scores of people were caught in the buildings. The exact number of dead will probably never be known.

The Mexican authorities, it is claimed, are attempting to minimize the extent of the disaster.

Four slight earthquakes affected the eastern coast of Mexico yesterday, breaking the cable to Galveston twice. Mexico City experienced six shocks, cracking over 200 buildings.

Chilpancingo, containing 8,000 inhabitants, was practically destroyed just after 8 o'clock Friday morning. Many were injured there.

Concepcion, Tetitilla and Coatepec Chilapa's suburbs, were destroyed. Several were killed and many injured in an adobe church wrecked at San Jose. San Lorenzo de Morena, Quereteno and Oaxaca, all near Chilapa suffered heavily.

Mexico City, March 28.—Chilapa, a town of 15,000 inhabitants. In the state of Guerrero, has been shaken by an earthquake and burned.

The shocks, two in number, were followed by fires, which, originating in a dozen places among the tumbling buildings, joined in a conflagration that swept the town. Only meager facts of the disaster are known here, and what has been learned has dribbled in from a half dozen sources more or less authentic.

The loss of life, if any, as well as the monetary extent of the property damage is problematical, and continued efforts to gauge the catastrophe have been futile. Telegraphic communication with Chilapa was for a time severed by the shocks, and the town is two days by horseback from the nearest railway station.

Couriers have been dispatched to Chilapa from Chilpancingo, some 45 miles distant, and it is presumed that messengers for relief were sent from the burned city early yesterday and possibly immediately following the earthquake Thursday night.

Mrs. Emma Jeannette Dorville, an American, lost her life in a panic in the Tiburcio theater, in the city of Vera Cruz, which followed the earthquake. When the quake was felt the audience rushed for the exits, and many were severely bruised, but none were seriously injured. Mrs. Dorville dropped dead from fright.

In this city a gendarme was killed and 15 persons were slightly and one fatally injured by falling beams and walls. All of these belonged to the working classes.

Early Friday El Imparcial, the government organ, received a dispatch from its correspondent in the town of Chilpancingo saying that the town of Chilapa, 30 miles distant from that place, was totally destroyed by the earthquake, and that fire broke out in the ruins and is now completing the work of destruction. The people of the town are terrorized and many are praying in the open plazas and in the fields adjoining the town.

Some hours later the same correspondent sent the following dispatch: "Later returns confirm my first telegram: Chilapa has been shaken to the earth and reduced to ashes."

The correspondent is the sole one working near the scene. The Associated Press unavailingly tried to confirm the news of the total destruction of the town by earthquake and fire.

Chilapa has a population of some 15,000 people and is the largest town in the state of Guerrero. To reach the place, it is necessary to travel one day by train and then four days over a rough mountain trail on horseback.

Banker and Business Man Appointed to Represent Florida in the Senate.

Tallahassee, Fla., March 28.—Governor Broward yesterday appointed Hall Milton of Marianna to succeed the late Senator Bryan of Florida in the United States Senate.

Mr. Milton is a grandson of former Governor John Milton of Florida, and is 42 years old. He was born in Marianna and is a successful banker and business man. Mr. Milton's appointment is for the unexpired term of the late Senator Mallory, which had been filled by the appointment of Senator Bryan three months ago.

POLICEMAN

Shot by ex-Convict at Tiffin Has a Chance of Recovery—Burglars Escaped.

Toledo, O., March 28.—Patrick Sweeney, veteran Tiffin policeman, who was shot by Wm. Hoffman, an ex-convict, whom he caught breaking into a grocery, has a fighting chance for recovery. Sweeney was brought to St. Vincent's hospital here on a special train this morning.

The bullet entered the officers' abdomen, but physicians were unable to locate it. A message from Tiffin says the police there have given up all hope of capturing Hoffman. It is believed he fled the state.

GYPSIES

Stole Boy and Nearly Starved Him to Death—Has Been Returned to His Mother.

Middletown, N. Y., March 28.—After an absence of a year, during which he had been with gypsies who took him away from his home here, Leonard Allen, the 16 year old son of Mrs. Mary Allen of this city, has returned to his home.

The boy was lured away in August, 1906. Detectives searched the country over, but were unable to find him until March 16, when they discovered him with gypsies named Stanley at Fall River, Mass. He was suffering from lack of food and ill-treatment and his mind was so weak that he hardly knew his own name. Mrs. Allen appeared against the gypsies, who were held for trial

KAISER DENIES HE OBJECTED TO DR. HILL.

PRINCE HENRY
PRUSSIA

TOWER

Washington, March 28.—The statement issued from the Foreign Office at Berlin in relation to the case of Dr. Hill, whom it has been proposed to transfer from The Hague to the Berlin Embassy, being entirely official, must, of course, be accepted by our Government on its face as amounting to a denial of the report that Dr. Hill was personally objectionable to the German Emperor.

As already indicated there was every reason why a matter of this kind should be handled in an unofficial manner, it being perfectly apparent to any experienced diplomat that to make a formal and official declaration that a foreign representative was objectionable would be certain to hurt the pride of his own government and arouse the bitter animosity of his own people against the objectors. Therefore the records show that only in very rare instances in recent years have rulers made their objection to Ambassadors or Ministers in such form that they would be spread upon the

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE NAMES MAY MEETING

Pursuant to call the Democratic County Central Committee met at the Music Hall on Saturday morning, March 28, for the purpose of considering and fixing the time for holding the annual Licking County May Meeting, so dear to the hearts of the Democracy of the county. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Eugene Moore of Pataaskala, who stated that he had received a letter from Hon. Robert W. Howard, the chairman of the committee, stating that it would be impossible for him to be present at the meeting. Mr. J. H. Newton of the Advocate explained Mr. Howard's absence by saying that he had to attend a legislative committee meeting in Cincinnati. Mr. Newton said that in all his twenty-eight years' experience in Licking county politics he had never known a chairman of a Democratic County Central Committee who had given the position more attention or who was more faithful to the duties pertaining thereto than Mr. Howard, and that he was attending to his duties as representative as well. Mr. Newton's remarks were received with enthusiastic applause.

On motion of Mr. Newton, Mr. Eugene Moore was made chairman of the meeting. Mr. Moore made a few remarks for the good of the party and thanked the committee for the honor that had been conferred upon him. He said that instead of transacting business first he would try the program and would hear remarks from those who desired to say a few words for the good of the cause.

At this point in the proceedings Judge E. M. P. Brister entered the hall, and as soon as he was observed loud calls were made for a speech from him. The Judge, who has never been known to fail to respond to an invitation for a speech, stepped to the front and made a rattling good address, being interrupted frequently by enthusiastic applause. The Judge said that it gave him pleasure to meet with the good Democrats of Licking county annually, as he had been doing for the past thirty years. He spoke of the bright prospects of the Democratic party at present, and also spoke of the turmoil and strife that existed in the Republican ranks. The mere mention of W. J. Bryan's name caused the meeting to go wild with enthusiasm.

Mr. E. O. Vermillion, one of the staunch Democrats of the county, who is ever found in the front ranks battling for the good of his party, was the next speaker. He spoke along the lines of harmony, and of the duty of all Democrats to support the ticket that was nominated. He predicted victory for the Democracy at the polls at the election next fall.

Mr. Vermillion was followed by Mr. O. C. Larason, who delivered a few remarks that had the effect of enlivening the meeting to a high degree. He spoke of the certainty of victory for the Democratic party.

Upon motion of Mr. Daniel Gormley the committee decided to hold the annual May Meeting of the Licking County Democracy at Music Hall in this city on Saturday, May 2. The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the county.

SUSPECTS

Arrested in Cleveland for Killing of Salvatore—Wife in Sicily Had Warned Him.

Cleveland, March 28.—In a search for the murderer of Guili Salvatore, whose body was found in an alleyway today, with five stab wounds in his face and throat, the police have arrested 17 suspects. They are nearly all fellow lodgers of Salvatore and the police say the slayer is among the number, but the police have not yet made definite charges against any one of the suspects.

Evidence tends to show that Salvatore, who came from Italy only a month ago, was killed in his room and dragged to the alleyway where the body was left covered with burlap. On the dead man's body was found a letter from Salvatore's wife, in Sicily, saying that she feared for his life.

LUMBER DEALERS

Will Have to Serve Six Months in the Lucas County Jail—Will Appeal to Supreme Court.

Toledo, O., March 28.—Indictments returned by the grand jury against 25 members of the alleged lumber trust were today held valid by the Circuit court and the cases were remanded to Common Pleas court for trial and were sentenced by Judge Morris to six months in the workhouse. The court held the indictments valid, but indicated that the sentence should be to the county jail instead of the workhouse. The lumber men will appeal to the Supreme court.

DYNAMITERS AGAIN BUSY

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP RESI-DENCE OF MANAGER OF UNION MINES.

House Shattered by Explosion and General Wells Has Narrow Escape From Death.

Denver, Col., March 28.—An attempt was made this morning by unknown parties to dynamite the residence of General Bulkley Wells, the general manager of the Smuggler union mines at Telluride. Wells was in charge of the state troops during the mining troubles several years ago at Telluride and incurred the enmity of miners at that time. Wells was sleeping on the outer porch of his house and was hurled high in the air, falling in the midst of debris many feet away. The side of the house was torn completely away and fragments of the bed were found 500 feet from the scene. The attempt on General Wells occurred shortly before day break. The dynamiters had approached near enough to the house to place the dynamite almost directly under the bed on which Wells was sleeping.

POWER OF FEDERAL MACHINE BEING USED TO FORCE THE NOMINATION OF TAFT

Utica, N. Y., March 28.—Ervin Wardman, editor of the New York Press, in an address here declared that the Federal employees in every section of the country are devoting all their energies and time for the nomination of Secretary of War Taft for the presidency. He said in part: "We are struck with horror as the details are uncovered of a compact between Mr. Taft's managers and the high financiers of Wall street whereby his candidacy is underwritten by those very 'undesirable' citizens against whom so riparian a war has been waged for seven years—to land the residuary legate to the White House."

"Mr. Roosevelt denied that he has the Federal machine under his orders, to force the nomination of Mr. Taft, or of any one. I for one say let us not show the disrespect to his high office to impugn his declaration concerning this prostitution of the Federal offices."

"Let us take him at his word—if you please. But the facts remain, whether it be by his command or against his desire and injunction, the Venice, March 28.—Emperor William, it is reported, read with much interest the telegrams printed by the newspapers here concerning his alleged refusal to accept Dr. David Jayne Hill as United States ambassador to Germany and said these accounts were incorrect.

He made no objection to the appointment of Dr. Hill, he is reported to have said, although he had expressed regret that Charles Magne Tower was to leave the post of ambassador.

SELF DEFENSE WILL BE PLEA

REPRESENTATIVE HEFLIN, OF ALABAMA, SHOOTS NEGRO ON STREET CAR.

Fellow Passenger Accidentally Shot in Leg Declares He Will Also Prosecute.

Washington, March 28.—Self defense will be the plea of Representative J. H. Thomas Hefflin of Alabama, when put on trial for the shooting of Louis Landy, a negro, with whom he had an altercation on the street car last night. Statements of those who witnessed the affair coincide with those of Hefflin, that Landy had grabbed him by the coat lapel and made a motion toward his hip pocket before Hefflin fired. The negro was resting quietly this morning with a bullet hole in his head. The probable outcome cannot be determined until the X-ray is used. Thomas McCree, a horse trainer, who was accidentally shot in the leg by Hefflin, was only slightly wounded. He declares however that he will prosecute.

JOHNSON

Will Be a Candidate for Nomination of President

DEFINES HIS POSITION

Minnesota's Governor
Won't Object to Filling
Executive Chair

Is Not a Candidate for Purpose of Defeating Wm. J.
Bryan.

St. Paul, Minn., March 28.—Governor Johnson Friday made a specific declaration that, while he has not sought and will not seek the Democratic nomination for president, he will not refuse the honor if it is tendered him. This statement was made in a letter to Swan J. Turnblad, publisher of the Minneapolis Swedish-American Post, who had asked Governor Johnson for a declaration on the subject.

The governor's letter to Mr. Turnblad is as follows:

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 27, 1908.

Mr. Swan J. Turnblad, Minneapolis, Minn.:

My Dear M. Turnblad—Your letter of the 23 of March, you state that you have been subjected to many inquiries as to my plans in connection with the Democratic nomination for president, I have for acknowledgment:

In reply thereto let me say that I do not believe that any American citizen should be an active, open candidate for the nomination to the presidency. And American would appreciate the high honor which could come to him in being selected as standard bearer of his party. While I recognize that the press has much to say about me, in connection with the high office, I have hitherto avoided any public or private expression regarding my position.

Matters have progressed so far, however, that it seems to me that I should at least say in answer to your interrogation, that if the Democratic party of the nation believed me to be more available than any other man and felt that by my nomination I could contribute any service to the party and to the nation, I should be happy to be the recipient of the honor which it would thus confer. I am not unmindful either, of the high honor which has been paid me by the people of Minnesota, and if the Democratic party of the state desires to present my name to the next national convention, I am sure I would have no objection; but even if Minnesota was the only state to declare for me, at that time, I should still feel that the distinction was one of the greatest which should come to me.

I have done nothing and will do nothing in the way of organization for bringing about this end and shall not be a candidate in the sense of seeking nomination. If, however, those who have the welfare of the country and the Democratic party at heart, should feel that I am necessary in this year of grace, I certainly shall respond to any call which may be made upon me.

In this connection I desire it understood that in no sense am I to be a candidate for the purpose of defeating Mr. Bryan or any other man; that the only consideration which would induce me to allow the use of my name would be the feeling that I might be necessary to the cause. If the Democratic party should see fit to nominate Mr. Bryan or any one else the action would meet with my approval and the nominee certainly would have my unqualified support as I should expect his support if conditions were reversed.

I have written you fully, that you may thoroughly understand the situation. In order that there may be no doubt, I would say in answer to your question, that if a nomination came to me I certainly should not refuse it. Very truly yours,

JOHN A. JOHNSON.

PUT-IN-BAY SELECTED.

Sandusky, O., March 28.—Colonel R. L. Diegel, manager of the Hotel Victory, Put-in-Bay, last night received notice of the selection of Put-in-Bay as the place for holding the 1908 convention of the Ohio State Bar Association. The dates are July 8, 9, 10 and 11. Secretary Taft will be invited to deliver an address.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Newark readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

M. B. Melick, 61 W. Church St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I used them for kidney trouble and obtained great benefit. I had a constant dull aching across the small of my back which would change to sharp twinges whenever I stopped or overexerted myself in any way. I also had pains in my hips, sometimes so severe that I was forced to take to my bed. I tried liniments and used numerous remedies but obtained no relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I procured a box at Crayton's drug store. After a short use I found them to be just the remedy my system required as they banished my troubles and I have had no return of them since." (From statement given November 5, 1904.)

CONFIRMED PROOF.

On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Melick said: "I gladly confirm everything I said in my former testimonial for Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have not suffered from backache or rheumatism since they cured me. I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills deserve all the praise given them."

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD

and strictly prohibits the sale of alum baking powder—

So does France
So does Germany

The sale of alum foods has been made illegal in Washington and the District of Columbia, and alum baking powders are everywhere recognized as injurious.

To protect yourself against alum,
when ordering baking powder,

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

and be very sure you get Royal.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It adds to the digestibility and wholesome of the food.

Gas on McMillen Farm.
Mr. John Tricker reads word from East Los Vegas, New Mexico, that natural gas has been struck on the C. A. and M. N. McMillen farm, six miles from Los Vegas. A well drilled, for water hit an unexpected flow of gas, the extent of which is as yet unknown.

Unveil Statues.
The children of the East school building held appropriate exercises
Friday afternoon, when two statues, one of "Minerva" and a bust of Lincoln were unveiled. The works of art are beautiful and were purchased by the scholars with money they raised from all entertainment.

Compliment for Congressman.
A letter received in this city from a person in Washington, contains the following reference to our talented congressman, Wm. A. Ashbrook:
"Mr. Ashbrook made one of the ablest speeches that has been heard in the House this session, on the Widow's Pension Bill. He has made many unknown friends by this thoughtfulness in trying to do something for the widows of the men who lost their lives in the service of their country."

Sad Wedding Anniversary.
Sadness reigns in the household of the late Charles H. Kreps, 39 German street, who was killed at the American Bottle company's plant on just been appointed organist and choirmaster of St. John's church, Jersey City. St. John's is the largest church in the state of New Jersey, having more than 1500 communicants.

Well Known Man Injured.

Hon. Fred Earle Rathbun, a prominent citizen of Cambridge, O., was burned by an explosion of carbolic acid. While quite serious it has been learned that it is not considered fatal. Mr. Rathbun will no doubt be remembered by many as the friend of Mr. Willie Green, and at one time was Mr. Green's assistant in his experiments in aerial navigation. Mr.
Rathbun is also a personal friend of Mr. A. L. Norton and has visited in Newark a number of times.

ist candidate for Congress from the Third district, addressed a large gather-the entire population of the village turned out to hear him. Music was furnished by the "All Night Quartet" composed of Am! Lautenschlager, David Everts, Fred Mours and Harry Fosset. Mr. Caldwell will hold an open air meeting this evening on the public square, and in case of rain it will be held in Music Hall.

MASSACHUSETTS
VETERAN ADMIRERS
MR. ASHBROOK

Writes Letter Showing Appreciation of Our Congressman's Speech on Subject of Pensions.

The following letter received by Hon. W. A. Ashbrook from a Massachusetts veteran shows that our Congressman is making a record for himself as a friend of old soldiers that is becoming known among them all over the country, and that they are appreciating his championship of their rights and interests.

Dorchester, Mass., Mar. 25, 1908.

Hon. Wm. A. Ashbrook:

My Dear Sir—As the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge sends me the "Congressional Record," I have been much interested in the doings of the present Congress, and while reading your speech of Tuesday, March 17, and being a veteran, I was moved to write you how much I enjoyed it. I have read about all that has been said on the subject of pensions, but no one on the floor of the House or Senate (pardon me for speaking my mind, as I do not wish to flatter you in the least, and as the Good Book forbids flattery, and I despise it from the ground up) has told the truth in so clear, concise, comprehensive a manner as the Hon. William A. Ashbrook of Ohio. If I did not feel that I would trespass on your valuable time I should like to tell you of my experience in the army and subsequently in trying to obtain a pension. I am of the opinion that the following verse is half true, to say the least:

"When war is rife and danger is nigh,
God and the soldier, is the people's cry;
When war is all over and all things righted,
God is forgotten and the soldier slighted."

Thanking you again for your able speech, I am, Yours truly,

ENOCH BOLLES.

Read the following from Mr. C. C. Bailey, a well-known pump manufacturer, of Champaign, Ill.

"When I asked my doctor what that eruption was which came under my right ear, and which had refused to yield to home treatment, he said it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take a long time to cure it. Another doctor said it was about the worst case he ever saw. I followed their advice for 16 months, and still the eruption would not heal.

"One day I asked the druggist if he had anything he thought would do me good. He said if anything would cure me it was

BENJAMIN WOODWARD
Former Newark Citizen Who Died in Mexico Contributed $25,000 to Denver Y. M. C. A.

The Denver Post, in speaking of the death of Benjamin F. Woodward, born in Newark, and the notice of whose death appeared in Tuesday's Advocate, says:

Benjamin Franklin Woodward, donor of $25,000 to the Y. M. C. A. building fund, superintendent of the first telegraph line running into Denver, boyhood friend of Andrew Carnegie, is dead. Mr. Woodward had been traveling in Mexico for his health.

Friday, May 25, 1906, he turned the first spade of earth on the new Y. M. C. A. site. Not satisfied with contributing $25,000, he was one of the most earnest workers in completing the fund.

Mr. Woodward was born in Newark, Ohio, June 25, 1834. Carrying the name of the famous inventor, it was but natural that he should at the age of 16 be a telegrapher, in Philadelphia. Later he became manager of the Western Union Pittsburg office.

Early in the civil war he identified himself with the military service on the Union side, serving with General Peck at Norfolk. A young wife and prospects for health in California caused him to resign in 1863.

He did not go to California, but became superintendent of the construction of a telegraph line from Julesburg to Denver for the Pacific Telegraph company. He opened the Denver office of this company October 10 of the same year. The Western Union acquired the Pacific company's properties, and Mr. Woodward became superintendent of the Denver division. Later he projected the United States and Mexico Telegraph company, which started the construction of a line from Denver to the City of Mexico. This company was merged into the Western Union when the line reached Santa Fe. He had charge of the telegraph system of the Rio Grande for a dozen years.

Mr. Woodward was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery, which he founded. His estate is a very large one.

NUMBER INJURED IN A TORNADO

REPUBLICAN OPPOSITION

FACES VARIOUS PROBERS AT WORK FOR THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Partisan Bias Shown by Opposing All Probes and Proposing None—Taxation Amendment.

Columbus, O., March 28.—(special.)—Some progress was made in the legislature this week as a result of both branches manifesting an inclination to "get down to business." The house cleaned off quite a section of its congested calendar and the senate plied vigorously the business before it.

There was the usual show of opposition on the Republican side of the senate with reference to the various probes at work in the state. Senator West of Bellefontaine, the Republican floor leader, lost his head completely and delivered a philippic which a local Republican paper characterized as "the bitterest scolding the Democrats have received during the life of the present assembly." This willing in-dorsement is sufficient to prove the animous of the Republican leader's partisan tirade.

The Logan county senator's ire was aroused after Senator Ward took a fall out of Senator Patterson for opposing the extension of the powers of the committee investigating the state treasury and state auditor's office. Senator Patterson is a member of that committee, and it is he who tried to get through a resolution allowing the Cincinnati probe committee only two attorneys at the limited compensation of $5,000. Senator Ward said he was surprised at and could not understand the attitude of the Republicans in opposing every effort to find out how the servants of the people are fulfilling their trust. He said a Republican at Cleveland, formerly lieutenant governor, had asked him repeatedly when the senate would investigate the state institutions and see why stewards became wealthy in a few years. He said that the pen investigation had already shown that to step back 1800 years it was necessary only to step over to the penitentiary, where there were things worse than the whipping post of Maryland. Senator Hafner showed up the fallacy of Mr. Patterson's remarks, then Senator West sailed in on his "bitter scolding."

SENATOR WEST.
Who Announced in the Senate That Probing Will Be Stopped by the Courts.

Among other outbursts of partisan frenzy Senator West declared Senator Hafner's remarks were inflammatory, censured Senator Ward's remarks about the penitentiary, declared that all the propositions made by Democrats for investigations were partisan, and said: "But go ahead with it; go ahead and investigate until the court stops you, for it will stop you when anyone asks you to, and you know it will." Also, "We Republicans have sat still and listened to this kind of talk about being fair long enough. I have, and I'll not vote for this resolution or any other partisan resolution like it. You don't want to be fair; you want to be anything but fair. I for one want the people of this state to know the kind of an investigation, and that all the opposition to any and all investigations comes from the Republican side, whether in the house or senate."

All the votes against the resolution to extend the treasury probe into the state auditor's office were by Republican senators. All the votes in favor of Mr. Patterson's resolution to tie the hands of the Cincinnati probers were by Republican senators and all the votes against the resolution to require the state board of deposits to send blanks to all banks desiring to bid on the $712,000 cash balance in the state treasury were by Republican senators. Senator West's philippic, therefore, is of the kind that "confirms suspicion," just like some of the remarks by Republican floor leaders in the house in opposition to probing the state treasury. The most significant hint let slip by Mr. West, however, is that this probing will be stopped by the courts. How he found it out before any steps are being taken to drag the investigations into the courts is doubtless a secret which only he as Republican leader on the floor of the senate is entitled to know in advance.

Representative Stockwell of Cleveland, who has been a Nemesis to State Treasurer McKinnon, engaged attorneys to prepare a brief in support of proceedings to annul contracts made with banks in which Mr. McKinnon and his cashier own stock. Mr. Stockwell formally requested Attorney General Ellis to begin proceedings to annul these contracts and also to bring suit against the banks to recover the sums which have been earned by them on this state money. The attorney general replied to Mr. Stockwell's original letter that he could see no direct violation of the statutes, and that as there was no allegation of fraud or misappropriation he would suggest that a brief be filed if, in the opinion of Mr. Stockwell, the principle of common law had been violated. That is just what Mr. Stockwell will endeavor to substantiate.

Whether the house will pass the Pollock bill to furnish all pupils in public schools free text-books, which met with considerable opposition in the senate, it would be impossible now to say. But the bill has aroused considerable interest, and Warden Gould of the state penitentiary comes with a suggestion that is worth considering, to-wit: "If the bill proposing to supply free text-books to the school children of the state is passed by the legislature and becomes a law, it seems to me that the penitentiary would be a good place to manufacture them at a light cost. The Wert law has abolished contract labor and it is only a matter of time until the labor of the prisoners will have to be turned to state work. I guess we could make printers and book binders out of them as well as cigar rollers and bolt makers. I do not care to discuss the merits of the bill to supply free text-books, but I say if it should be passed the Ohio penitentiary could do the printing and binding and make it a big industry."

As amended in the house the Thomas bank inspection bill provides that the state bank examiner shall be appointed by the governor without confirmation by the senate. All other state officials, such as insurance commissioner, oil inspector, labor commissioner, mine superintendent, chief inspector of workshops and factories, examiner of engineers, railroad commissioners and trustees of state institutions, are appointed subject to confirmation by the senate. Yet here it is proposed to empower the governor to appoint a man on his own responsibility, without the advice or consent of the senate, to have surveillance over more than 300 banks in Ohio, for private banks are also to be included in the act, as passed by the house. The examiner would be subject to removal at the will of the governor, who could discharge one examiner and appoint another whenever he sees fit, thereby making the appointment of an official to exercise supervisory control over the state and private banks (national banks are not included), and who is to have confidential knowledge of these institutions containing millions of dollars of deposits, subject to the will of only one man, and that man the governor. As passed by the house the bill provides that the chief examiner, every clerk in his employ, and the examiners shall be bound by oath to keep secret all the facts obtained in the course of such examination, except in so far as the public duty of such officer requires him to report upon or take official action regarding the affairs of such bank. The examinations required to be made by the superintendent shall be made without previous notice to the bank.

Newspapers that are lending their aid to the effort to prevent an initiative and referendum resolution being submitted to a vote of the people, are trying to make it appear that the action of the senate in refusing to concur in the house amendments is hostile to the I. and R. Just the contrary is true. The refusal of the senate to concur and the refusal of the house to recede from its amendments are mere parliamentary technicalities, which must be observed to get the resolution into the hands of a conference committee. The chief contention is whether an obstructive "majority of all votes cast at such an election" or whether a majority of votes cast on each proposition shall be sufficient for legislative enactments by the people. No doubt an agreement will be reached in conference committee which will be accepted by both houses.

The last obstacle to the taxation amendment recommended by the special tax commission created by Governor Harris was cleared away when the house tabled the motion, pending since the house adopted the resolution in February, to reconsider its vote. The almost certain repeal of the Longworth act for endorsing constitutional amendments on party tickets will leave this amendment to the special care of the voters along with the amendment to change the regular legislative sessions from even to odd years and the initiative and referendum amendment if submitted. The tax amendment is a far more revolutionary proposition than the initiative and referendum, for it would permit the legislature to classify property for taxation and fix different rates for different classes. Such a proposition would not be so dangerous if the I. and R. should also be adopted, for then the people would have a check on any unfair tax measures that might be enacted by the legislature. It is significant, however, that the same interests which intend to make a vigorous campaign for the taxation amendment will also bitterly oppose the initiative and referendum.

ORWELL, C. RIDDLE.

BOUND OVER

To Probate Court Were Two Men by Mayor Atherton—How Officer Caught One Man.

Mayor Atherton decided in this morning's session of police court that the best way to dispose of two men was to bind them over and get them off his hands. One of them was a frequent visitor of late in police court and seems to have fingers that itch for property that is owned by someone else. This one is Harry Buekingham, who was arrested in record breaking time by Officers Callan and Carroll the other day, on a warrant sworn to by Thomas Roberts, who charged the prisoner with borrowing his bicycle and selling it to a junk dealer. He was bound over to the probate court in the sum of $100, and being unable to furnish it he was taken to the county jail.

Stanley Kincaid, who was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Joan Marjan who charged him with assault with intent to rob. Kincaid was identified and was "ad over to the Probate court on $100 bond. He was sent to the county jail to keep company with his pal, Harry Ramey, who was bound over on the same charge. The officers who arrested him, found that he was in town by seeing young boys carrying meals to a house, 29 East Railroad street. Their suspicions were excited and they made an investigation and found their man.

John Vasily, a foreigner, was arrested last night by Officer Gorman on the complaint of a woman who charged him with being drunk and disorderly. An interpreter was used and the facts showed that the man was arrested on complaint of the woman, who had a grudge against him because of his neglect to pay a board bill. Things were squared away and the mayor dismissed the case.

An old woman, a regular drunk, was again up. She agreed to leave for her home in the country and was dismissed.

FORMER UTICA BOY IN TROUBLE

UTTERS WORTHLESS CHECKS AT LIMA AND IS PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Has Prominent Connections in This County, but They Will Render No Assistance.

Utica, O., March 28.—Harry J. Clark, who is under arrest in Lima for passing worthless checks on Lima merchants and on hotels, and who drew the checks on the First National bank of this place, formerly lived here and comes from a prominent family. His father, now dead, was one of the best known residents of Utica. Clark, when he lived here, was assistant postmaster and later he went to Cardington, Morrow county, where he was in charge of the Logan Natural Gas company.

He married a young lady of that village and then went to Cleveland. Little is known of his habits while in that city. However rumors were circulated of some supposed crooked dealings though they cannot be confirmed. A short time ago his wife returned to her home in Cardington and Clark went to Lima.

His brother-in-law, A. J. Wilson, is president of the First National bank of this place, and his sister, Miss Cora Clark is cashier of the institution. Three checks have been received by the bank that Clark signed, but they have been protested for he has no funds on deposit. He probably thought that his relatives in the bank would care for the checks when they were sent in, but this refusal to do, saying it will teach him a lesson to get out of the straits the best way he can.

A check on a Spencerville bank was also issued by Clark but as in the Utica case he had no funds on deposit. A message from Lima said that his sister was on her way to his assistance, but this is probably untrue, as she was seen on the streets today. Clark is about 33 years of age, and is a brother of Will Clark, now deceased, formerly marshal of Utica. He has another brother, James, living in Columbus.

AMUSEMENTS

MR. CHESTER BISHOP.

The Crescent comedy company, which comes to the Auditorium for a week's engagement, opening next Monday night in the great New York drama, "The Turn of the Dice," has recently secured Mr. Chester Bishop as leading man. Mr. Bishop is perhaps not well known in this city, but his appearance Monday night will serve as an introduction to theatergoers of the city, who will readily understand why he becomes an instantaneous favorite wherever he appears. His stage appearance is absolutely perfect. Mr. Bishop is often referred to as the "ladies' favorite," and as the "matinee idol." Seats are now on sale for the opening night performance. Ladies will be admitted as usual. Seats should be reserved early. No free seats reserved after 6 p. m. Monday. Matinees on Wednesday and Saturday only.

MRS. FISKE.

The dramatic year will bring no more important production than Mrs. Fiske's presentation of Ibsen's "Rosmersholm," which will be seen at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, April 7. The appearance of Mrs. Fiske in a new character always attracts widespread interest that will be enhanced on this occasion because the character is that of Rebecca West, the famous woman who is the central figure of the play, the crowning work of the master modern dramatist.

ORPHIUM THEATER.

Humor is an art; humor is a thing that can be cultivated, and anything that can be cultivated is an art. Some artists are funny naturally and some understand the knack of being funny without being naturally so, but the best humorist of all is the one who in addition to a natural humorous perception has developed the knowledge of how best to apply it. That is the reason the bill at the Orphium looks so good for the coming week. It is comedy and the artists who supply all have reputations. The Ozavas are considered one of the best teams of comedy jugglers before the public. Originality is a marked characteristic of this team and they manage to work in a constant succession of surprises. Harris, Beauregarde and company present a rural comedy sketch entitled "The Country Judge," which is full of life, song and comedy. It is the sort of act that appeals to popular fancy. John Goss is an old time minstrel man having been with Dockstader, Primrose, and Al G. Field. His trick and original bone playing has always made a big hit. The Campbells should jump into popularity at once as their act is one long laugh. They have very clever singing and dancing specialties, which will undoubtedly score big.

The pictured melody and moving pictures are new and interesting. It looks like the Orphium should do a big week's business with such an array of talent.

BROWNSVILLE DRAMA.

Brownsville, March 28.—"Through Snow and Sunshine" is the title of a drama to be given by the Brownsville high school on Friday evening, April 17. Music will be furnished by Prof. Jesse Murdoch and Mr. Clare Bowser of Somerset.

APPOINT

Dog Catcher Will Mayor Atherton in Ten Days—Special Warning to Dog Owners.

Since there has been so much trouble from dogs running around loose and attacking people, Mayor Atherton has decided to appoint a dog catcher, whose sole duties will be to land the canines that are running loose on the streets and place them in the dog pound.

This year the dog pound will be in the brick building in the rear of the city prison, which was formerly used as a shelter for the men engaged in cracking stone for the city. It will be impossible for the owners of any dogs to release them from here as was done when a wooden barn was used.

The mayor wants to call attention to one fact. The wearing of a tag by a dog will not make it immune if the dog is allowed to run the streets. The only canine allowed on the streets will be those that are muzzled. The canine cop will be appointed in a few days.

SNEEZE—NATURE'S DANGER SIGNAL.

If everyone would heed the warning that Nature sends forth in the form of a sneeze such dreaded diseases as Consumption, Pneumonia and La Grippe would be considerably lessened.

All colds depend upon some source of irritation for their existence, and their arrival is usually announced by the unmusical sneeze. This is the psychological time for the practical application of the proverbial "Once of Prevention," and there is nothing that can be depended upon so absolutely to prevent, as well as cure, all manner of coughs, colds and lung affections as Pisko's Cure.

It goes right to the source of irritation and attacks the trouble at its foundation; it speedily removes the cause, and by its gentle healing action restores healthy conditions.

There is no kind of cough or cold however serious, that will not be speedily benefited by Pisko's Cure. It is the one safe remedy, giving prompt relief in the most dangerous and obdurate diseases of throat and lungs and because of its freedom from drugs is the ideal household remedy.

AGED MAN STRUCK BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Thrown Several Feet and Picked Up Unconscious---Badly Bruised and Injured Internally

Watchman Relieved of Responsibility for Accident
---Will Doubtless Prove Fatal as Victim is 86 Years Old.

John Patterson, aged 86 years, who lives with his son, Thomas Patterson, at 27 German street, was fatally injured Saturday morning at 7:20 by being struck by a west bound Pennsylvania passenger train soon after it had left the station. The aged man was thrown for several feet, sustaining a broken rib, bruises about the shoulder, and possibly internal injuries.

Mr. Patterson, who is quite deaf and feeble, had started up town. Watchman Henry Jones, who tends the Fifth street crossing, accompanied him across all of the tracks but the last two, one of which is the main track of the Pennsylvania. When he reached this track he went on his way alone. The watchman, believing that he had plenty of time to get across the track before the approach of the passenger train which was then fully a hundred yards distant, turned his attention to a woman who was approaching the track behind him.

The aged man told an Advocate reporter that he believed he had plenty of time to clear the track but that before he knew it the engine was upon him. He was knocked unconscious, but rallied while being removed to his home in Criss Bros. & Jones' emergency wagon.

Dr. J. A. Mitchell was called and conducted an examination. He stated that one rib on the right side of the body had been broken, and that aside from a badly bruised shoulder, no other injuries were noticeable, but that owing to the advanced age of the victim, the shock will doubtless prove fatal.

Dr. Edw'n Nichols arrived later and persisted in a second examination.
On two former occasions Mr. Patterson has had narrow escapes, and in each instance the presence of help who dragged him from the tracks, saved him from what appeared to be almost certain death.

From the statement of the injured man himself, Watchman Jones is relieved from responsibility in this case, as he believed the aged pedestrian safely across the point of danger when he directed his attention to other persons crossing the track.

The injured man has four sons and one daughter. The daughter is Mrs.
Jennie Miller, living at Miamisburg, and the sons are George, Frank, John and Thomas, of this city.

His injuries proved fatal and the aged man breathed his last at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The funeral arrangements have not been made and will not be until the arrival of his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Miller of Miamisburg.

COURT NEWS

Committed to Hospital.

Martin (Dink) Leonard, a well known character about town, who came to this city several years ago from Mt. Vernon, and has remained here ever since was adjudged insane
Saturday by Probate Judge E. M. P.
Brisler, and taken over to Columbus on the 10:45 a. m. interurban by Deputy Chas. Hindel. Leonard showed a vicious disposition when anyone antagonized him, and would ask foolish questions of anyone he would meet on the street. He said that the police were mad at him and wanted to get rid of him; that his trouble was due to whisky, and that he would let up if the court would let him go.
The court, however, could not see it that way and sent him to the hospital.

REPAIR CENTER

Car Barns on West Church Street Fully Equipped With Tools for All Work.

Something that the public ought to know is that the citizens of Newark know that at the corner of Church and Thirteenth street the Newark and Zanesville interurban branch of the L. C. and E. electric traction railroad has a car barn or stable but unless you see the plant, one of Newark's industries, how can it be classed as such. Everybody knows there is a car barn there. But does any non-inquiring citizen know what this barn means?

All kinds of mechanics are working upon all of the rolling stock of the interurban barns—blacksmiths, electricians, machinists and all necessary men who work on running repairs.
They have a large shop for the repairs and the reconstruction of all cars that are used in their traffic and some of Newark's best mechanics are employed there. Every repair necessary to the restoration of the line can be made from the barn with the assistance of the wreck repair crew.
The foreman of the machine shop and the paint shop are former foremen in the employ of the B. and O. R. R. in this city. Every part and every structural piece of cars or motor can be repaired by the mechanics at this car shop. Many citizens think that this car shop is only a stable and a plant to transform the high tension current so it can be used in a domestic condition, but the fact is it is the repair center of the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville Traction line.

BRER RABBIT SHOWS BRER COON HOW TO GO BULL-FROGGING

By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

ILLUSTRATED BY J.M. CONDE

If anybody kin tell me how things happens, or why, I'd know a heap mo' dan what I knows now," remarked Uncle Remus, rubbing his chin and looking hard at the little boy. "What things, Uncle Remus?" asked the child. "Des anything you kin think 'bout," the old man replied. "Look at the moon fust one shape an' den an'er; an' look at de clouds, one day thicker dan de soap my mammy use ter make, an' de nex' day gone! Now, how you gwine ter splain dat?" The little boy said nothing, for the old man had suddenly soared into regions with which he was unfamiliar. There was a long pause, and finally Uncle Remus continued his reflections. "Take de case er Brer Rabbit an' ol' Brer Coon. Brer Rabbit fished fer fish a' Brer Coon fished fer frogs.

Dey wuz bofe fishers fum away back. Brer Rabbit he had good luck, an' Brer Coon he had bad luck. It went on like dis, twel one day dey met in de big road. Brer Rabbit had a long string er fish, an' Brer Coon aint got a frog ter his name. Dis kinder erryrate him, an' he ax Brer Rabbit how in de name er goodness do he do it? Brer Rabbit say all he got ter do is ter bait his hook, an' den Brer Coon ax, he did, how come dat he can't ketch no mo' frogs. Brer Rabbit say it's kaze dey got a spite ag'in' him, kaze one time in de dark er de moon he come mighty nigh ketohin' de King er de frogs.

Brer Coon try ter ermember de time, but somehow he can't; an' ol' Brer Rabbit say, 'Member er not, des ez you please, but it's des, like I tell you. Y'ever sence dat day dey knows when you goes rackin' by; you kin hear um say, some one way an' some an'er, 'Here he come!' an' 'Dar he goes!' Brer Coon, he say dat ef dat's de way dey er gwine on, 'aint no use fer ter try ter ketch um, an' he say he feel purty splimpy-splammy on de 'count un it. Brer Rabbit, he flip a flea off'n his lef' y'ear, an' kinder study. He study an' study.

Den he say, "Brer Coon, you been mighty good ter me; we grow'd up side by side; you use ter try ter put yo' han' in my pocket an' git de goodies out.

But when I tuck yo' tail an' run 'roun' de yard wid it you never showed yo' tushes; an' dere's sump'n in dat.

Now you des pace down yan' on de sanbar whar de de two branches meet. When you git dar, kinder stagger 'rou' like yo' liver's out'n j'int an' den fall down an' do like you done dead; don't wink yo' eye, don't wiggle yo' tail; let things take der way an' time it's course." Well, des ez Brer Rabbit say, des dat a'way Brer Coon done.

Atter so long a time, Brer Rabbit went lopin' down dar, an' he aint mo'n git dar 'fo' he squall out—"Coony dead! Coony dead!" De big ol' King Frog say, 'Don't believe it! Don't believe it!' An'er one say, 'Yes, he is! Yes, he is! I seed 'im! I seed 'im!' Well, dey argymented an' argymented, twel bimbe dey notice Brer Rabbit in de bushes, lookin' like he want ter know whar he was at.

Dey nolla'd at 'im, an' he holla'd back. 'Now's yo' time, Friend Frogs! Whirl in an' bury Coony in a big deep hole!' So dey got der spades der shovels an' der hoes, an' dug de san' out fum und' 'im, an' when dey got de hole dug, ol' Coony wuz in dar.

Dey digged it so deep dat a whole passel un um couldn't jump out, an' when de time come, Brer Rabbit 'gun ter laugh, wid 'Rise up Sandy an' git yo' meat!' An' dar dey wuz!"

What a loud suit you have on.
Yes, Miss Rich has refused to listen to my suit, so after now she won't be able to help herself."

OLD GRAVE: "Are you thinking of the future, my friend?"
YOUNG SLAVE: "No, to-morrow is my wife's birthday, and I'm thinking of the present."

"Well, Ethel, do you think that two can live as cheaply as one?"
ETHEL: "Oh, much cheaper! Since I married John it hasn't cost mother or me a cent."

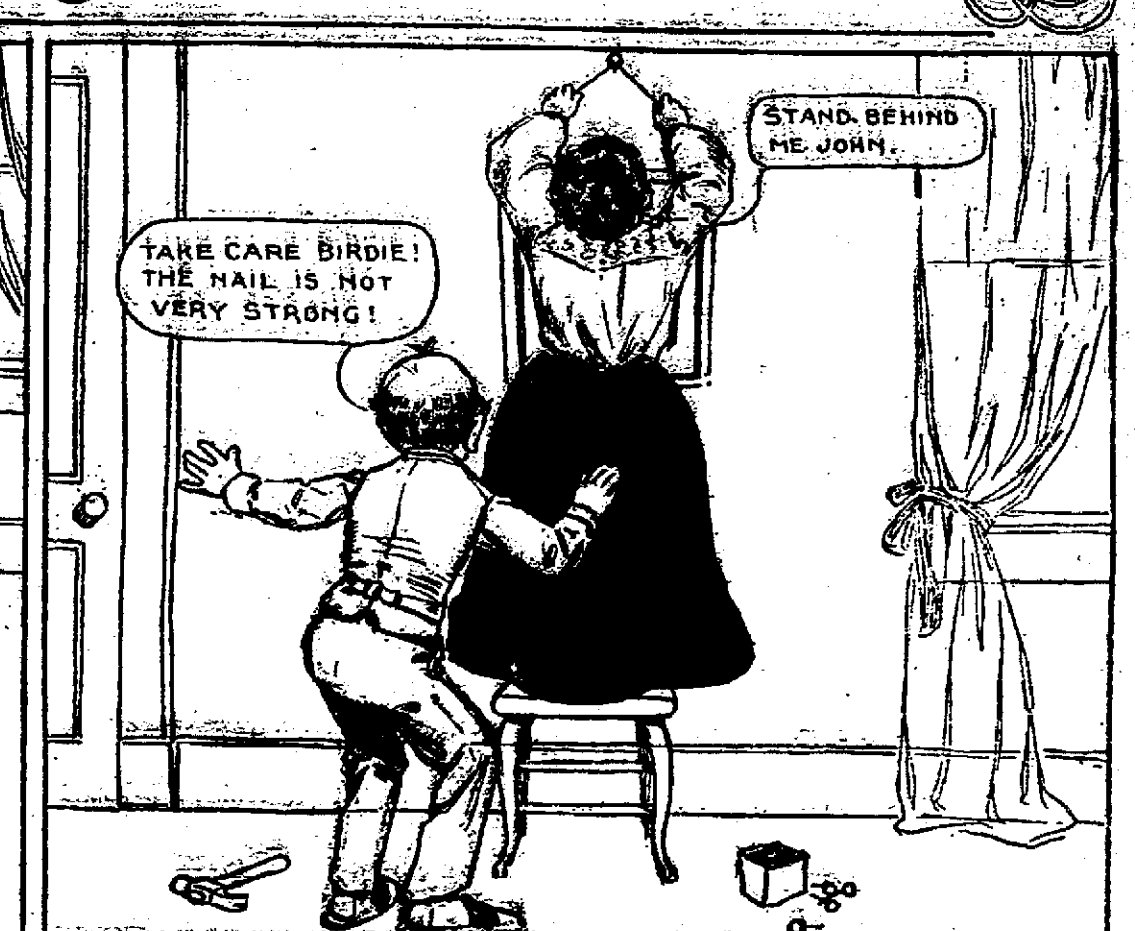

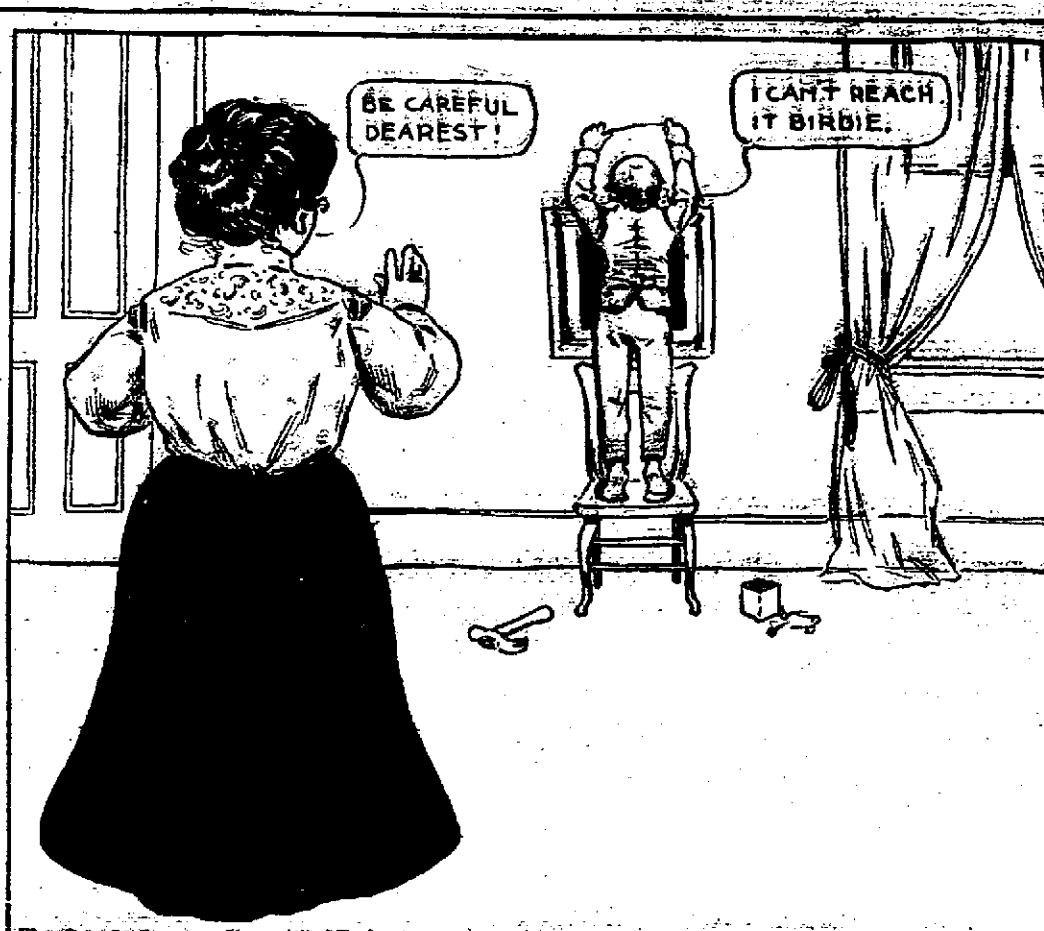

"I say what a jay lot you farmers are. Can't you see that a scare crow is just the thing to attract them?"
"You city chaps be about as thick as the crows. That ain't the field I want to keep them out of, it's the other one."

"A Little Money Now and Then"

HOW many home-keeping women wish they could earn a little money now and then!

Their sisters and cousins and friends rank among the self-supporting, wage-earning women, who, having paid their board, bought their clothes and settled with laundress, doctor and dentist, may without question count the "leavings" and decide between the savings bank, a new book, matinee or concert tickets and a—yes, a bunch of violets! They may patronize a soda fountain without wondering whether the nickel or dime ought not to be laid away toward a new pair of shoes for little Jimmy.

The housewife and mother, however systematically and thoroughly she performs her duties, always has a curious sense that it is her husband's money and not her very own that she is spending. She has an ever-present longing for some money of her really-truly own. And for such women this series of articles has been written.

First, there is the woman who is merely handy with her needle. She has a little spare time every day, and on some days quite a good deal of time. She does not want to do dressmaking, because she knows she would have to place a slipshod servant in the kitchen and thereby lose more than she would earn. But she would like to find just a little money every week at the point of that needle!

Suppose she lives in quite a big city, a city of not less than 20,000 inhabitants. She should first make the rounds of the better class of dressmakers and see whether they have any work that she could do at home. The making of fine buttonholes is almost a lost art among youthful sewers, and the painstaking, old-fashioned needlewoman can often secure work of this sort from dressmakers. Another work of the moment is hand braiding, sewing the fashionable boutache braid on a stamped pattern. Fine faggoting, hand-running of tucks, and embroidery if you can do it beautifully, are all given out by some dressmakers. Of course, many dressmakers have all this done in their shops by girls on weekly salaries, but often it is impossible to get reliable hand sewers in a shop, and then the home-worker has her chance. Certainly it pays to make the rounds of the shop. Work taken home must be delivered on time, at the moment agreed upon, or a dressmaker will give the worker no more opportunities.

If your town boasts a woman's exchange, by all means visit this work-center and try to think up something worth making, that no one has thought to make. If you find the counters laden with lace collars, embroidered turnovers and doilies, say promptly, "I will not make collars, turnovers and doilies, but some simple, well-made clothes for babies or very small children." Talk your plan over with the superintendent of the exchange, and if she sees you have ideas above the conventional embroidered articles which flood the exchange, she will be glad to plan with you.

Perhaps you are rapid on a machine. Then try to earn a little money making aprons. Make the rounds of the grocery stores, butcher shops, etc., wherever you see men wearing aprons, and offer to make them by the dozen. You cannot compete with store aprons you do make them, by the dozen, buying your fabrics by the bolt. And when the local tradespeople find that you turn out a better wearing apron than the factory-made article, they will patronize you.

Perhaps you mend deftly and rapidly. Then start a mending bureau. Have some cards neatly printed, and visit the local laundries, asking that your cards be sent home with all parcels of laundry. Place this request on a business basis. Promise, and keep your promise, to pay the laundry a small percentage on all orders received, just as you would pay for advertisements in the local papers.

And lastly, have you thought of starting a class in sewing for young girls? Many busy mothers would like their daughters to learn the dainty art of fine mending, or hand-embroidery, or even plain sewing. Many young girls complain that they are not taught this at home. Organize a class for two afternoons in the week at 25 cents a lesson, and remember that in the modern class there are no samplers, but something useful to wear from the very start. If you teach embroidery, buy stamped turnovers, collars, cuffs, tuckers and corset covers. These and the doilies, all supplies, for that matter, you buy at wholesale and sell to your pupils at retail prices. You will find your pupils much more interested in pretty things to wear than in table or bureau scarfs. And as they show the product of their handwork (and your help) they will advertise your class and attract new pupils.

The average girl of today is not interested in a strip of linen covered with pretty but useless stitches, but she will bow before a pretty necktie with embroidered ends, a turnover that will set off an otherwise plain waist, or a corset cover through whose handwrought eyelets she can run dainty wash ribbons. A class of this sort with five pupils will pay you $5.00 per week—and surely that is a little money now and then for the little things you hate to buy with "John's money."

I wish women who are making a little money now and then to help their particular "Johns" would write to this department and tell us how they do it.

Subscription Dance Etiquette

WILL you please settle a question of etiquette for me? There is a very nice dancing teacher in our neighborhood, and once a week he gives a public dance, where any one may go for fifty cents. I love to dance, but I cannot afford to join his regular class. I can pay fifty cents once a week, or there are plenty of boys who will pay fifty cents for me, but my mother is so opposed to my going. I think she is old-fashioned and fussy, and she thinks I am bold and forward. Please decide for me."

This is not a question of etiquette, but of morals. It is so common a problem with girls who write to me that it is worth a whole article to itself.

Both the mother and the girl are in the wrong. What they need is a compromise. I do not believe in the promiscuous public dance for any girl unattended by her mother, and this means both the girl who works for her living and the girl who is comfortably supported by her parents. But I do believe in dancing under the proper chaperonage, and in the proper environment. It is a very healthful, invigorating, joy-giving exercise, and every mother ought to encourage her daughter in dancing, even if Mother has to make self-sacrifice to see that the girl has the right sort of partners in the right sort of a dance room.

The trouble with the mother is that she says, "You must not do this," and she does not add "But you may do that."

She says "You must not go to the public dance hall," and she does not add "But we will get up a dancing club."

How often have you girls who just love to dance, but who have no big parlors and willing parents to give you this pleasure, read of "subscription dances" given by wealthy society people? It never occurred to you, did it, that these subscription dances were your dancing chances in modest form? Just as you pay fifty cents to attend a public dance in a public hall, so the heiress of thousands buys a ticket for the subscription dance in her set. Her ticket is her own, paid for by her parents. The man who dances with her pays for his own ticket. The difference is that the list of persons who may buy tickets is carefully scanned by the organizers of the club and its patronesses. The latter are married women who know who's who in society.

The money paid for these tickets is used to defray all expenses, music, hall, refreshments, favors, etc.

You know ten girls, and every one of the ten girls knows a nice young man. Sometimes you go to the same public dances and sometimes you do not. But in a way you all know each other.

Very well. Decide to start a dancing club that shall meet once a week or once in two weeks. Perhaps the "nice dancing teacher" around the corner will help you out. He may have one evening a week when his hall is not engaged. Tell him your plan, and ask how many people at fifty cents a head you will need to pay for the hall, the music, and perhaps lemonade and cake or coffee. He may know some nice girls and boys who would join the club.

Then you want a few married couples to help out. Perhaps some of the young married people who work in the same store, or office or factory with you will be ready for just this pleasure. That will give your club dignity and keep away very undesirable young men who believe not in pleasure and fun, but in license.

Appoint the married women, at least six of them, patronesses. Each patroness is supposed to take five tickets to sell to agreeable and desirable young men. This saves the girls a lot of embarrassment.

Next form your business committee. This may be made up of boys and girls whose duty it is to get the most for your money, to close the bargain for the hall, music, etc. Of course the larger your number, the less it costs per capita. If your hall, music and refreshments together cost $25 (and in smaller cities you can make such a bargain), and you have fifty persons in the club, it will cost you fifty cents each.

You must not admit any members to the club without consulting your patronesses or chaperones. On the night of the dances, the patronesses stand near the door to receive arriving guests, and also to say good-night after the dance is over. Between these hours they dance like other members of the club, if still young enough to enjoy a two-step or waltz.

This may sound a trifle stiff and formal to the girl who has dropped into promiscuous dances and who has danced with men without the formality of an introduction, but it is the one safe method for the girl in a big city, particularly if no relatives are near to guard her. And I do not believe that any bright, up-to-date set of girls will fall to make these simple subscription dances a success, or to convert young men into believers in them. And if a young man prefers the public to the subscription dance, then you don't want to know him.

So get this plan to "Mother," and if she is the sort of mother I think she is, she will not only say "yes," but will help out a little financially to put the club on its feet. It is a small price to pay for her daughter's safety.

Next week we will take up the etiquette of the dance, the obligations of partners, escorts, etc.

Economy in Sleeves

WHILE the newest styles in gowns show long and simple lines, the sleeves and yokes are most elaborate, and some of them intricate in detail. Therefore, in making over an old blouse, the most important question is "How can I remodel the sleeves?" One thing is certain, you cannot depend on the skimpy pieces left from the old sleeves, and you do not think that entirely different material will do. Here you are mistaken.

Rip up the old sleeves, sponge and press them. Then buy a little new material and make elbow sleeves contrasting in weave but harmonious in color, using the pieces of the old sleeves for tiny bias bands about the cuffs, or shaped circular ruffles at the top if there is enough. If not enough for the latter, the bias bands will be sufficient. Now inset a little yoke of the new material and make a collar of the same, and this will give you a very up-to-date blouse. Nets are used with cloth, silk, linen and cotton fabrics.

The prettiest gumpies can be made of scraps of lace a woman always tucks in the lace box—if only you had enough for sleeves! This is a question easily solved. Make the gumpies on a foundation lining, and use your precious bits of lace only where they will show under the jumper blouse. As to the pieces, match the lace in edging or some inexpensive quality in the same weight and tint. Make a foundation sleeve of white muslin, and sew the lace on this in three ruffles. This is one of the most popular sleeves this season.

Perhaps you have a dress with short sleeves, and now that the freshness has worn off you wish it had long sleeves. So you could "get the good of it" for informal wear. This is easily accomplished. Some of the very smartest new models are showing sleeves which reach above the elbow or just below it, made from material like the waist itself. Then the long sleeve effect is procured by making a tight-fitted lining of white lawn and over this a muslinette or full under-sleeve of net or lace. This sleeve must come to the wrist. It may even form a point that runs down over the hand. You must put touches of the same lace on the blouse. Perhaps a little lace tie made of the net, or a "V" shaped maker, but lace must be introduced in the blouse as well as the sleeve.

To illustrate the use of a variety of materials in making sleeves, I can describe a gown I saw the other day, fresh from the hands of a French modiste. It was the simplest little lavender mull, with a full tucked skirt, absolutely devoid of trimming. The blouse was a surprise, and the sleeves—they were marvels. The body of the sleeve was made in a little puff of all-over Val lace. Over this was a cap of Irish lace, edged with batiste medallions, and each medallion was edged with a tiny frill of Val lace. Let me add that this gown was worn by a tall, willowy girl. It would be impossible on a short, stout girl—but it will suggest to readers the idea of using up odds and ends of lace. By combining two or three different kinds at hand you can often evolve a charming sleeve without buying any new material.

If your tailored shirtwaist is perfectly good except that the lower part of the sleeve is worn out, cut off the sleeve just below the elbow and wear long white under-cuffs of some plain material like batiste, dimity, etc. Take the old pieces of the sleeve and patch under the arms, or wherever you may wish to make about to break, and you will find that it will look new and fresh again.

Tartar Sauce for Fish: Delicious with fried or broiled fish of any kind; also may be served with hamburger steak. One cup of mayonnaise dressing, one tablespoon each of capers, olives, green cucumber pickle and parsley. Chop the pickles moderately fine, and shake up in a piece of cheese cloth until the moisture is absorbed. Then, a little at a time, blend these with the mayonnaise. Have the fish or meat very hot—the sauce is cold. Serve this sauce in a separate dish.

'Twixt Six and Sixteen Fashions

DRESSING girls between six and sixteen is every mother's problem. Very few girls strike a pleasing medium. Either they are all angles or all curves, rarely a happy combination of the two. The angular girl seems all legs and arms. The heavy-set girl is an animated pin cushion, resisting all motherly attempts to imbue her raiment with grace or personality.

But as this particular problem of motherhood must be solved, let us do it without further delay. The general effect of a frock for a growing girl, be she thin or stout, is regulated largely by the selection of the fabric. The stout girl should never be encased in a startling plaid or even a medium-sized check, but both of these are becoming to the thin girl. On the other hand, the very thin girl should never be dressed in stripes nor snug-fitting clothes. The thin girl may wear a frock much trimmed with ruffles and lace, and these sensibly are made with very little contrasting trimming. Often the cuffs and collars are detached, so that the colored suit and its pure white accessories can be washed separately. This is insurance against the running of the color into the white trimmings.

Unquestionably this remains a season of overblouses and jumpers for growing girls, and pleats seem to be more popular than shirtings or ruffles. For outdoor wraps, cutaways are shown for girls near sixteen, but for those nearer six, the box coat remains in favor. The newest hats for girls, as for their mothers, are the huge, flat-crowned sailors, trimmed with big bows or wreaths of flowers. The shape is extremely trying to both thin-faced and moon-faced girls. It makes the thin girl look pinched and the stout girl look sawed-off, so a wise mother turns away resolutely from the new shape and takes something less trying. A hat with one side upturned and the other drooping is generally more becoming to a growing girl than the hat of uniform width and droop all the way round. Brown shoes, ties and hose remain in style, and the ugly custom of wearing white stockings with black shoes or ties is dying a natural death.

Stunning jumper and Eton costumes in heavy linen are offered for girls of all ages, and these sensibly are made with very little contrasting trimming. Often the cuffs and collars are detached, so that the colored suit and its pure white accessories can be washed separately. This is insurance against the running of the color into the white trimmings.

Beauty for the Eyes

THE appearance of the eye will be materially injured if you are abusing or straining it. In the effort to see, you "squint," or draw the two lids together until the eye becomes a mere slit. This habit of "squinting" does not help your vision at all. All oculists will tell you that you secure a better view with the eyes wide open, but if your vision is failing, for the sake of your nerves, your brain and your personal appearance, have your eyes properly fitted with glasses. This will not only cure you of the habit of "squinting," but it will stop the progress of crows' feet and lines around your eyes.

You cannot change the coloring or size of the iris, but you can change and improve the white portion of the eye. If this has an ugly yellow look instead of a clear, pearly, or bluish white, nine cases out of ten you are bilious, and as soon as you clear out your system thoroughly, the heavy look will be reduced and your eyes will be better.

If the white portion of the eye is bloodshot, and the tiny little veins are red and inflamed, this is practically a feverish condition, which you can reduce by both internal and external treatment. Internally, the blood must be purified. You may be eating too rich food and not taking sufficient exercise. To treat it externally, twice a day go into a darkened room and lay your face into very hot water across your closed eyes. Bathe the eyes once a day with salt water, made with distilled water and common table salt thoroughly dissolved, or you can use a weak acid wash. Mix ten grains of borax with an ounce of distilled water. The best way to drop this into the eye, or to bathe the eye, is to use the eye cup, a tiny glass receptacle with curved edges that fit right around the eyeball. It can be purchased at any drug store for a few cents. Fill the cup almost full with the soothing lotion and hold down the head so that the eye fits right into the cup. Now slowly swing back your head, holding the cup in position so that it is inverted and the eyeball is literally bathed and cleansed.

If the lower lid is baggy or puffed, one of two difficulties exist—either you have some latent kidney trouble manifested in this condition, or the eyelid is inflamed. To ascertain whether the inflammation exists, stand before your mirror and gently turn the lower lid over so that you can see the lower lining. If this is scarlet, or inflamed, or covered with tiny little granules, then you may be sure that you are suffering from inflammation strong enough to cause a swelling. If there is no sign of inflammation, then the case is one for your physician to investigate. Should it prove to be a symptom of kidney trouble while your physician treats you internally, the baggy or flabby flesh under the eye can be gently massaged.

If it is a case of inflammation, a very simple remedy is this: Mix ten grains of borax with an ounce of camphor water, understand, this is camphor water, and not spirits of camphor. Bathe the inflamed eyes with this and use hot water compresses. When the inflammation has existed for some months and becomes almost chronic, you will need a slightly stronger lotion. I will be glad to send the formula for this to any chronic sufferer from inflamed eyelids, but generally the lotion given above is sufficient.

Mixed Green Salads: Make a bed of crisp light green lettuce leaves. In a separate bowl mix onion sliced very thin, cucumber, canned string beans and peas, and some green asparagus tips, seasoned with salt and pepper. As all these vegetables need high seasoning, mix them well. When you have mixed the salad thoroughly, arrange it in a mound on the lettuce leaves.

THE TEASERS—MARJORIE ADMINISTERS THE WATER CURE

Bobby—I'll try one of Pa's cigars just to show those kids that I can smoke.

"Ahem! Good morning, my little children. I hope you're very well this morning."

"Have a little smoke! It'll do you good."

"What! Afraid of a little smoke? Here have some more. It don't make us sick."

"I begin to feel kinder queer."

Marjorie—Pa said you would catch fits if you touched his cigars, and I guess you've got them. The water cure is just the thing for fits.
